Replicant Night postscript

Hello, this is Kayono Yumi.
Thank you so much for buying Replicant Night.
I hope you enjoyed it.

Well, this book is quite smutty compared to my other works.
It has sex scenes in every chapter.
Ah! Except for chapter 5. Even so, it's pretty good job for me. Blindfolds, bondage. I call it petit SM.
The reason why it's petit is that, I couldn't bring myself to use things like VE no matter what.
I wonder why I guess I want semes to work hard and use only their bodies.
It's my homework to try them out sometime though.

In this book, Senpa's first name finally appears at the very end. Did you notice?
It was on the invitation letter of his wedding in the extra story. Trap (FYI, I didn't put the bride's name below it because I've once received a wedding invitation from a friend, and it only had his name. Besides, I was too lazy to think of a name for her. Her name wasn't mentioned in the story, was it?), which is Sawaki Toshimitsu. Toshimitsu-kun. Toshi-chan. You probably wanna ask how I came up with that name. I chose it randomly (so cruel).

There's one more cruel thing.
As for Senpa's shotgun wedding, it was actually a mistake from one night stand when he got drunk at the group blind date. And his partner seems a bit like Tomoki-something like that!! (Not physical similarities though.)
—They started dating after they spent the night together, so they're still in process of growing their love.
They live separately because they're still students.
So when he reunited with Tomoki, it was hectic around him. Ahaha~

By the way, when I was working on chapter 3, I encountered a serious disease (breast cancer) for the first time in my entire life.
As soon as I finished the manuscript, I had a surgery.
My lump was pretty big, so they had to cut off the mammary gland, and made a new breast for me out of fat in the abdominal muscles and belly. At the same time, my belly button had to be removed, so they made that one for me too. Now I feel like a cyborg.
After I was discharged from the hospital, I finished chapter 4 at home while I was resting.
Thank goodness that ANIMA issues only 4 times a year. I didn't have to miss any deadlines.
sighs in relief And now, I'm taking anticancer drug. I hope I can be done with that by the end of December. sobs
